

michael powell, please don't be a stooge for giant media corporations. keep democracy alive. vote no on loosening the ownership rules. conversely if we see mr. powell open up a consulting business after his fcc tenure and his clients just happen to be the corporations who benefitted from his actions this coming monday -well then i told you so. there is nothing about this that is on the level. mr. powell will sell out the american people to the highest bidder. if that happens i hope it comes back on him and bites him in the butt.
